Brock,

Tell your mother that our Cousin, Charles Edmunds, of Albuquerque, built the Many Farms Chapter House shown on page 11. He was the construction foreman for the Stuchman Construction Company.

Is your school anything like this? Besides Indian, of course.

A yearbook is sort of like a friend. It keeps many happy memories between its two covers. It can be used as a souvenir and remembrance of close friends and faculty members who gave a lot on your behalf. Most of all a yearbook can be a lot of help in your school years.

...Boarding High School on the Navajo Reservation. Our parents had requested that we not be sent off the reservation to high school and Many Farms High School was built in response to this request.

This is the Story of Many Farms High School 1974 a year of ACTION

Action Begins Early in the Dorms

The dorms are an important part of our daily lives.

Since most of us live too far from a bus route the dorms are very necessary part of our school.

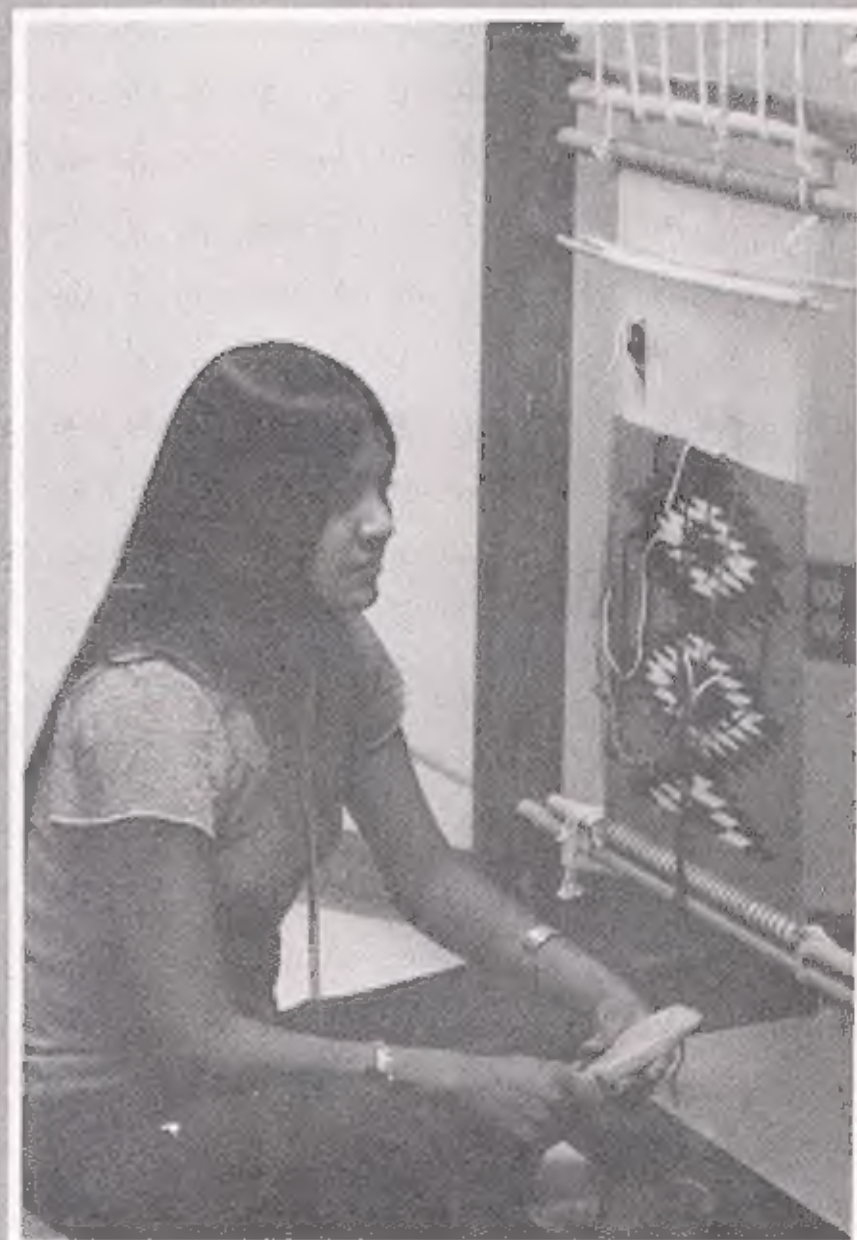

Who are you kidding A.J.?

Thats more like it Daniel.

Recreational ACTION

Recreational Skills are a necessary part of our education. One must have a good physical body to enjoy life. Traditionally we ran before breakfast as part of our physical training.

The Girls Drill Team adds a little beauty to the ACTION.

Hello, just call me Ruff. I am what yearbook publishers and editors and advisors call a CONTINUING ELEMENT. That means you'll see me over and over again in other parts of this book. Sometimes I'll look a little different, that's because I was created by two different real neat artist, namely Tommy White and Charles (Atlas) Riggs, who each have a little different opinion as to how I look.

Today I get my kicks from Kung Fu? Karate? Would you believe Judo? I really like to get into the ACTION.

Explorer Post 585

ACTION is their middle name

The Many Farms Explorers with over 300 members, is the largest Explorer Post in the U.S. Post 585 provides an opportunity for students to participate in any activity of their choice. The one prerequisite is that the members develop their own program. This year we will remember a very exciting rodeo, two 105 mile trailrides and a horsemanship program as being very special. Judo and Outdoor Education including a program in watersafety rounds out the program.

It seems like, that Wrestling is becoming one of the fastest growing sport in the Nation and Many Farms is no exception. This years team was small and inexperienced, however it grabbed a couple of Medals at the Wingate Inv and a lot of experience at the Joseph City Inv. The Wrestlers are working for a better season next year.

Who's going to get the rebound?

The 1973-74 Basketball season was a season of hard fought victories and close bitter defeats. With few players returning from the last years varsity team and the lack of experience played a major role in the outcome of the season.

We should have a good season next year.

MY CHILDHOOD

As a child I remember my mother making fry bread on an open fire just outside our hogan. It was a calm, cool summer evening and I could smell the smoke and the nice smell of the bread. Nearby I could also smell the odor of sheep which I think were shorn the day before.

I remember seeing my grandfather chopping wood with echos following each blow and I could see tall trees that stood way above my grandfather. I also remember seeing some horses in an old broken down corral and seeing someone bringing some hay to the horses. Also I remember hearing the barking of dogs and the singing of someone.

I don't remember much after that except my father took me to a school, and then to another school which was a boarding school. I was lonely and scared at first, but I made some friends. I stayed in that boarding school for one whole school year without going home, with all the loneliness and sadness in me. After one year of staying at school I found things different at home: everything that used to seem big was small. I don't know how that was, maybe it was because I was growing up.

-Robert E. Begay

I enjoy the sights, sounds, and smells that remind me of the comforts of home.
The sounds of the pots and pans when food is being prepared and cooked is pleasant to the ear and the fragrance of fry bread cooking is pleasant to the nose.

-Helen Johnson

Man is made up of organs cells and bones. He needs a lot of things in order to survive. He may take something to make him a healthy person or he may take something that will destroy him temporally or for life. He may set a bad example for himself so people don't respect him anymore.

Man sets his own feelings for things or people around him. He may love to be around people or he may want to lock himself out from the rest of the world. Man wants to be loved and belong if he does not succeed he may try again or try to get rid of himself in a way of suicide or drinking away his worries. In this way he will slowly kill himself but the problem will still be there.

Man may be greedy and try to rob other peoples land, money or other valuables that they have. Man is a criminal only if he makes himself a criminal. He may destroy the values or just take it for keeps in a way of forceing or cheating. Man can be a criminal to his fellow man or to himself. Man has his own way of having fun. Some in the right way some in the wrong way. In the wrong way he may try to hurt others.

Man can be a destroyers or a creater at the same time. He may create something to make life easier for himself but at the same time destroy his environment and nature. Man invented cars, electric plants (where they make electricity) coal gasification plants etc...to make life easier but in turn it has polluted the land, air and destroyed the beauty of the face of mother earth. Man has destroyed the fun of living by over populating so that some people eat once a day and suffer of starvation.

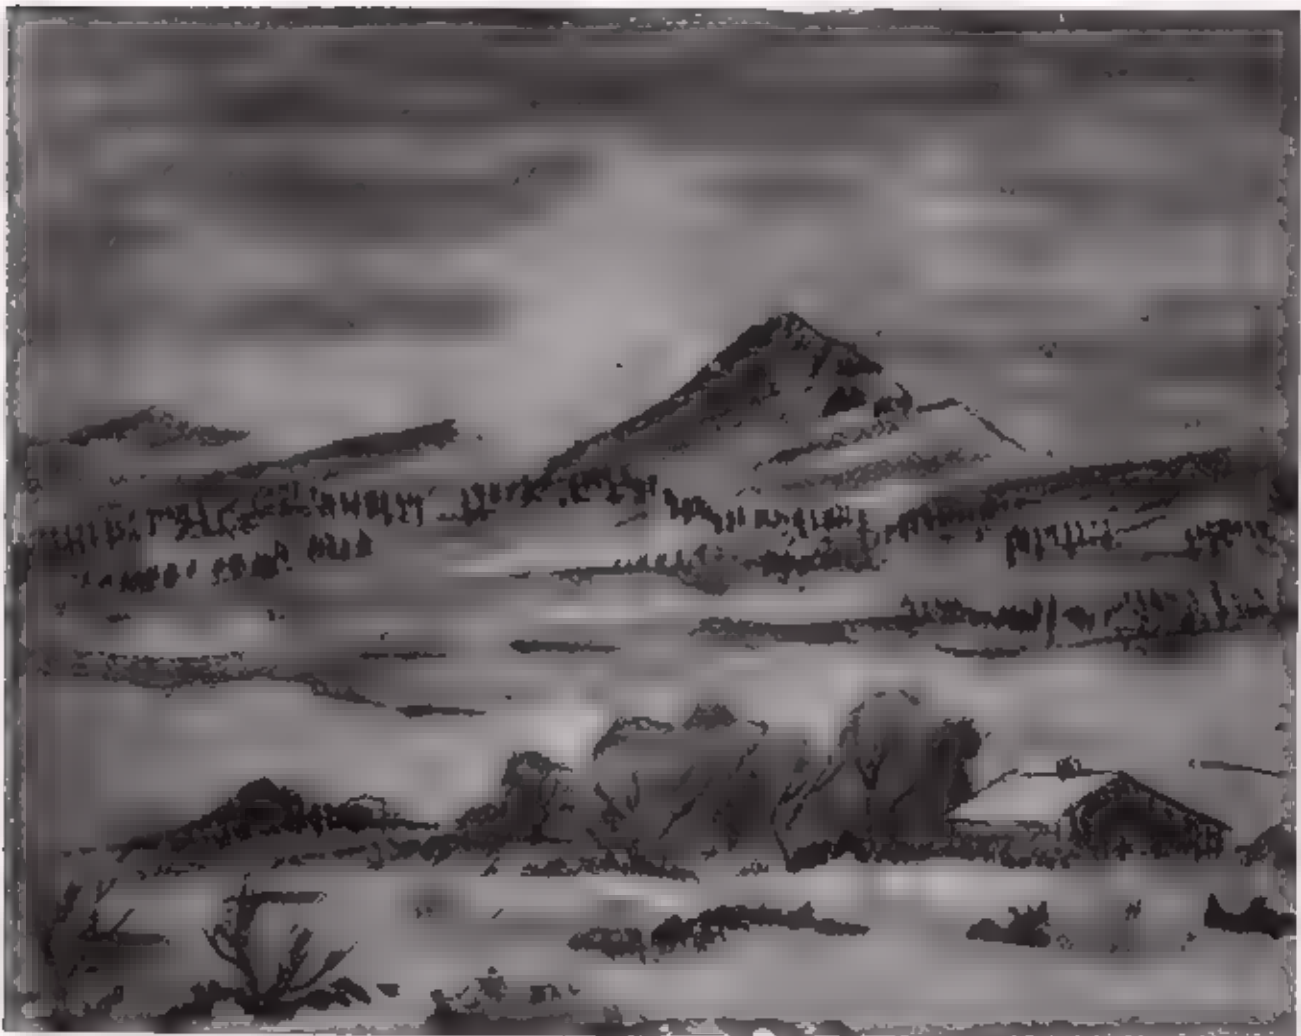

Man has destroyed or stole other peoples culture and now these people don't know where they belong. Things that were once made with prayer and blessing are now made in foreign countries. Songs and prayers that were once heard every morning, evening and all day every where are now silent. They are forgotten or were never learned again to keep it going but have died away with those who held them. Man has his own beliefs. Man worships what he believes is his creater or his all mighty. Man can get carried away with his beliefs. He may criticize other and try to get them to join him in what he believes in. He may try to shame them by causing trouble while they're having the ceremony. Man's world is what he made it to be. Once he could do what ever he wanted to do with it but that isn't true anymore. He can hardly do as he pleases. He can restore what he has destroyed but it doesn't happen over night. His dreams may not come before his time is up. But he can only hope for things to get better for his childrens generation.

Appreciation...

The 1974 Yearbook Staff wishes to express their appreciation to everyone who assisted in any way with this years yearbook.

A Special Thanks goes to Mr. Colin Bibler for the many hours he spent in the dark room.

And, to Mr. Bill Berg and the Business Club who served as our Business Agents this year.

We have made an effort to include everyones picture in this book. We have missed many people for various reasons, like pictures ruined in processing, late enrollment or something.

If your picture is not in here and you are disappointed, then we are disappointed.

The Bee shaa nil nri '74 is dedicated to you THE GRADUATES OF MANY FARMS HIGH SCHOOL.

...who broke the path to colleges and universities...from Fort Lewis College to New Mexico State University, from Eastern Arizona College to University of Arizona, from Western Arizona College to Northern Arizona University, from Navajo Community College all the way to Haskell Indian Jr.
College.

...and to Vocational Training and the Armed Forces.
WE SALUTE YOU.

We have come together a long way.
We have come upon our destination which is among our other destinies
From here we'll part company
some to return
some not.

I hope we, the seniors set an example for others to follow. If not, their moral spiritual pride will allow.

These past moments we lived and felt
will not be forgotten but cherished.
